Norton's Internet Security 2010 is a complete security solution that combines PC optimisation, security and parental control. It keeps your family safe with email protection, banking, shopping and more. Interface The Internet Security 2010 interface is a tad simpler than that of Norton's Internet Security 2009. However, the added parental control features gives it an edge over previous versions. This gives you the power to control and monitor what your children are doing online, create custom profiles for each of your family members, control which web sites they can access and even filter content that is blocked in the parental control settings. Parental controls You can monitor and control your children's web surfing, email and instant messaging activity. In addition to this, you can also create custom profiles for each family member. These profiles allow you to control individual settings such as custom blocked websites, specific content types and time-frames. Streamlined setup Setting up Norton's Internet Security 2010 is simple and you don't have to be an IT expert to get started. The software is easy to install and it will take you a couple of clicks to start protecting your computer and your family. Configuration wizard All you have to do is download and install the Norton's Internet Security 2010 software and you are good to go. You will be guided step-by-step to configure your security settings and there is no need to fiddle with or struggle with configuration prompts. The interface of Norton's Internet Security 2010 Security This edition is a more advanced version of Norton's Internet Security 2009 and it includes features such as: The anti-spam filter provides protection from unsolicited email. You can easily select what types of spam, phishing and other malicious websites you want to block. The search engine filter enables you to surf the web safely with enhanced protection. It will block harmful sites and it will protect your child from dangerous downloads, phishing, and other malicious websites. Anti-malware engine scans files and processes to determine if they are dangerous or not. When it finds malicious sites, it will block them and it will notify you. There is also a Spyware and adware protection module that allows you to scan your computer for any lurking spyware, malware and adware. If it finds any, it will notify you and it will remove it for you. The firewall module is used to keep your computer safe. It allows you to control outgoing and incoming connections. It will block unwanted applications and it will block dangerous websites. It will also notify you of any activity that takes place on your computer. The parental control module lets you control your children online with parental controls and it monitors their activity. It will notify you if your
